

Energy Days III – Energy Town Hall Meeting

Wednesday, May 27th 2009, 9:00 to 11:30, Physics Auditorium, TA-3, SM-215

Mark your calendars. Energy Days III is your chance to get the latest information on LANL's developing energy programs and energy research opportunities. Terry Wallace and Duncan McBranch, PADSTE, will discuss LANL's growing energy security mission and implementation strategy. They, together with a panel of energy program development leaders, will present current and expected future energy R&D opportunities and the activities at the institutional and grass roots levels to develop and grow LANL's contribution to national energy R&D needs. The panel presentations will be followed by staff Q&A and discussion. Give your feedback on LANL's energy strategy and development activities as well as your ideas on how best to engage staff and accelerate implementation. The Town Hall will be broadcast on Labnet Channel 9. POC: Steven Buelow, Energy Security Center Leader, 663-5629.
